

No fooling

A WILD GOOSE CHASE: Despite Friday being April Fools' Day, a telephone call about Canada geese at Granite City High School didn't turn out to be a wild goose chase. In that respect, Vince Darnell and Allen Williams feed two of the four wild Canada geese that decided to land on the school's front lawn. They were seen elsewhere in the city, too, but no one knows why they made the unscheduled visit.

Cable TV hearing scheduled

GRANITE CITY — With the defeat of Madison County State's Attorney Dick Allen in the March 15 primary, the future of his cable TV task force has been questioned by some. But a public hearing has been scheduled here, possibly April 20.

The Madison County Cable Task Force has been relatively inactive in the past several months, but, according to Allen, information it has gathered will soon determine whether he files charges against Cencom Cable TV.

Before he leaves office in early December, Allen said, he intends to see the task force wrap up its work.

Allen lost his bid for re-election when a fellow Democrat, Bill Haine, captured the party's nomination.

Meanwhile, the Republican candidate for state's attorney, Don Weber, said he would discontinue the task force and would negotiate directly with Cencom on cable improvements if elected.

Haine said he would need more information from the head of the task force and the Illinois attorney general's office before deciding on the panel's fate.

The cable task force was formed by Allen in July 1987 to investigate consumers' complaints about Cencom, whose Illinois office is in Maryville. Since that time, task force members have conducted public hearings in their own communities to gather information.

Allen said he is waiting for a report from Granite City before he makes a decision. Collinsville, Edwardsville and Highland have held hearings and submitted their reports, he said.

George Cochran of Granite City announced Friday morning that a hearing would be held at 7 p.m. April 13 in City Hall Courtroom 6, second floor, 2000 Edison Ave. However, City Attorney Mark Goldenberg said Friday afternoon that the timing is not feasible and the hearing probably will take place April 28.

If Allen files charges against Cencom, Allen said, he understands that the next state's attorney could drop them. But he said he will not allow that possibility to sway him.

Weber said Allen's concept of the state's attorney's office intervening for Cencom consumers was good. But Allen was more interested in "grandstanding," Weber said, and threw away his "trump card" when he launched a public crusade against the cable company.

Weber said Cencom, like any other company, is concerned about its public image and does not want negative publicity. He said the state's attorney's office can effectively negotiate with Cencom in a firm manner.

Roger Hoover, a Collinsville resident who serves on the task force, would like to see the panel continue its work. He said the task force has not had much effect in pressuring Cencom to improve its service.

Cencom officials have accused Allen of picking on the company for his own political gain.

Haine blasts agency on light rail

PONTON BEACH — Madison County Transit District Chairman William Haine on Thursday blasted the Bi-State Development Agency and specifically its executive director, for attempting to balance its budget at the expense of the two Metro East transit districts.

At the district's meeting in Pontoon Beach, Haine cited a litany of "questionable" accounting procedures and fiscal initiatives on the part of the agency, saying they were aimed at the Madison County district.

At Haine's request the board also approved a scathing letter from Haine to Bi-State Executive Director Raleigh D'Adamo.

The letter is in response to a March 10 written request from Bi-State that the Madison County Transit District pledge its financial support to the proposed Metro Link light rail transit project.

FEC has not ended probe of Fields' 1986 campaign funds

By John D. Millazzo

EDWARDSVILLE — Campaign problems are continuing for Madison County Auditor Arthur "Pete" Fields, an unsuccessful primary election candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 21st District.

Despite the fact that the campaign is over, Fields learned last week that he is still the target of a Federal Election Commission inquiry prompted by another housing candidate, Mike Mansfield, chief aide to U.S. Rep. Melvin Price.

Mansfield asked in the complaint that the FEC investigate whether Fields' 1986 campaign disclosure statement should have reported up to $10,000 in campaign literature allegedly printed for Fields using East St. Louis riverfront development bond funds.

The allegations cited by Mansfield were contained in a news story published in February. Mansfield initially filed the complaint Feb. 15.

However, the first complaint was forwarded to the FEC in the wrong format and subsequently was refilled by Mansfield, a former Mansfield campaign worker said.

FEC spokesman Fred Elland last week acknowledged that the agency had received the amended (See FIELDS, Page 5A)

PONTON BEACH — Securing a working plan for a new jail was authorized at the Village Board's March 22 meeting.

Trustee Carl Hackney, former economic developer for the village, said a registered architect has agreed to prepare a preliminary plan for study by board members for a fee of $420.

If village officials elect to change the initial design and fur-

Long re-elected Republican chairman

By John D. Millazzo

Godfrey attorney J. Thomas Long was elected March 28 to a second two-year term as chairman of the Madison County Republican Central Committee.

Long, unopposed for the chairmanship, was elected at the GOP's county convention held at the Madison County Courthouse.

Former county Republican chairman Dr. Edward Ragsdale, Alton, was elected vice chairman of the party.

Others elected included Bob Furmanek, Collinsville, secretary, and Udel Wehling, Alhambra, treasurer.

Gene Crivello, Alton, was chosen to fill a ballot vacancy for County Board in the 7th District. Crivello will face the incumbent, Democrat Bill Little, in the Nov. 8 election.

Also approved at the Republican convention was a resolution that will allow the Central Committee to draft candidates for vacant ballot slots for the County Board.

Of the five elections for countywide office in November, Republicans will field candidates for three.

Don Weber, former state's attorney, ran unopposed in the GOP primary and will face Wood River attorney William R. Haine, a County Board member from Alton.

Republican County Board member Homer Henke of Mororan in the primary as a write-in candidate for recorder of deeds; Republican Mark T. McDowell of Collinsville ran as a write-in for auditor.

McDowell will face Democrat Fred Bathon of Madison in the general election; Henke will face Daniel R. Donohoe of East Alton.

Long said following the convention that the GOP will not attempt to field candidates for the countywide offices of coroner or circuit clerk.

Republicans currently hold four of the 29 seats on the County Board and are fielding four more candidates, including Crivello, Long said.

"If we can pick up two seats or so every two years on the board we don't feel that we'd be doing too badly."

"Also, we expect to draft another one or possibly two candidates for the ballot in areas where we believe we've got a fighting chance," Long said.

Under the resolution adopted at the county convention, the Central Committee may meet in caucus and draft candidates to represent the party.

Those candidates will then be certified to County Clerk Evelyn Bowles for placement on the ballot.

Bowles said that Sept. 7 is the last date to place candidates' names on the fall ballot.

TALE OF HORROR: Margaret Fisk of the Animal Protection Association and her son, Eric, inspect the dumping site of at least 20 dog carcasses that had been skinned.

20 skinned dogs found

By Mike Myers

Staff writer

PONTON BEACH — Apparently expertly skinned from nose to tip of tail, the bodies of more than 20 dogs were discovered Thursday evening.

They were found in a slough beside State Afd 35 about 600 feet west of Illinois 111 by a passing fisherman.

Some under water, some partly submerged, some stretched out on the bank, the dogs seemed to represent the end of a tail of horror, authorities said. Speculation centered on some form of cult or ritual sacrifice.

"It's not something I'd ever seen before, but it stands to reason it is the result of some sort of structured endeavor," Trooper Randy Fox, Illinois State Police, said.

"The first thing that came to my mind was some sort of cult sacrifice. A ritual of some sort. (Parts of the bodies) looked like some special things had been done."

Fox said he had contacted other sources in the State Police to aid in the investigation. Removal of the carcasses Friday was complicated by lack of personnel on the Good Friday holiday.

"It looked to me like they'd been there a while," Fox said. "There's not much to go on. There's no legitimate reason for it, so we know there must have been something destructive going on."

"In my experience, the first thought often turns out to be right."

Bank stock being sold by Omni

By Bill Winter

Staff writer

Sale of stock for Omni Bank of Pontoon Beach has begun.

John "Jerry" McDonald, who is to be the board chairman, said Thursday the Illinois commissioner of banks and trust companies has approved the sale. Persons interested may contact McDonald at 797-1003 or Dave Giese at 831-0812.

Organizers of the new bank besides McDonald and Giese are Richard Buenger, Carl Hackney, Irvin Slate Jr. and Harold Tracy.

In authorizing sale of the stock, the commissioner approved the new bank's capital structure, its future earnings prospects, the character of the management, and the convenience and needs of the area to be served, McDonald said.

Preliminary approval has been received for Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation insurance.

Construction of the state-chartered bank is to begin in early summer, and completion is planned in late 1988, McDonald said.

The site is on the western side of Illinois 111 at Engineers Road, about one-half mile south of Interstate 270. The address of Omni Bank is Post Office Box 8006, Granite City 62040.

National Steel's 4th Quarter net $22 million

National Steel Corp. reported net income of $22.6 million for the fourth quarter of 1987, compared to net income of $2.8 million for the same quarter of 1986. Net sales were $640.6 million, an 8 percent increase over fourth quarter 1986 sales of $593 million. The firm owns Granite City Steel.

For the full year 1987, National Steel turned in its best financial performance since the formation of the joint venture between National Intergroup and Nippon Kokan in 1984.

Net income was $47.8 million, an improvement of $107.6 million over the $59.8 million loss of 1986. Sales totaled $2.42 billion compared to $2.13 billion in the previous year.

For the fourth quarter and the year 1987, net income was increased by $400,000 from the liquidation of LIFO (last in, first out) inventories.

An extraordinary credit of $2 million was also included in the net income of both periods for the tax benefit of operating loss carryforwards not previously recognized.

Fourth quarter 1987 income included an unusual charge of $4.6 million to cover the closing of a coke facility, net of previously provided reserves. The net loss for 1986 was reduced by $8.2 million from the liquidation of LIFO inventories.

A milestone was reached on Nov. 26 when the No. 2 continuous caster, which processes liquid steel for the Great Lakes Division, went into production. The new caster complex is able to produce 2.2 million tons of steel per year.

In combination with the new ladle metallurgy station that began operations in mid-summer, the new caster enables Great Lakes to produce extremely high-quality steels for critical customer applications.

National is now able to continuously cast 90 percent of its steel on a company-wide basis and 100 percent at the Great Lakes Division near Chicago. The caster should enhance product mix, lower costs and improve operating efficiencies.

Also in November, staff and equipment began moving into the new Technical Research Center in Trenton, Mich., near Detroit. The center will help National's plants refine and improve their products and production processes and will facilitate transfer of new technologies to the operators. The center will be fully operational in the first quarter of this year.

Chairman Howard M. Love and President Kokichi Hagiwara said National's improved performance for the year was partly the result of unexpected strength in the steel market. Demand remained strong throughout the year and prices improved slowly, although average prices still remain below the levels of 1982.

The strength of the market can be attributed in part to the declining value of the dollar, which has eliminated the price advantage formerly enjoyed by foreign steel producers.

That, together with assistance from voluntary restraint agreements, helped reduce the market share held by imports by 2 percent, and strengthened domestic steel prices. Imports, however, still represent 21 percent of domestic consumption.

National Steel also benefited from internal improvements, including increased yield, improved product quality, improved employee productivity and lower energy consumption. Programs are also in place to reduce unscheduled equipment outages and employee overtime.

The immediate outlook for 1988 is favorable, despite a flat automotive market.

Orders have been booked through the second quarter and there is continuing strength in the construction, container, strip converter, and pipe and tube markets.

Domestic steel supply and demand appear to be more in balance for the first time in a number of years, which has had a positive impact on steel prices.

"We are working hard to capitalize on the opportunities presented by the improved business climate," Love said.

"National Steel has demonstrated that its people are capable of making significant performance improvements. We have raised our sights as to what we can accomplish and we have put real 'stretch' into our goals for 1988," he said.

Raw steel production in the fourth quarter totaled 1.32 million tons, compared to 1.24 million tons in the fourth quarter of 1986. Steel shipments were 1,345,000 tons, an increase of 5.8 percent over 1986 fourth-quarter shipments of 1,277,000 tons.

For 1987, raw steel production reached a record 5.14 million tons compared to 4.96 million tons in the previous year. Shipments were a record high 4.86 million tons, an 8.2 percent increase over the 4.49 million tons shipped in 1986.

In the fourth quarter, both the Midwest and Granite City divisions exceeded their shipping level commitments. This helped reduce a backlog of past due orders that had accumulated as a result of a number of earlier equipment failures.

"Delivery performance deteriorated to unacceptable levels and hurt the company's relationship with some customers," Love said.

"However, product quality remained high throughout the year and National maintained good quality ratings with its customers."

"Improving product quality was indicated by a significant decline in the percentage of secondary steel in our total shipments. The frequency of mistakes in order processing that

Pit bull owner charged

GRANITE CITY — Jeffrey Loy Smith, 21, 2773 Madison Ave., was charged with permitting a dangerous animal to be at large, following an incident at 4:50 p.m. March 25.

Police received a report of two pit bulls roaming the 2700 and 2800 blocks of Madison Avenue and the dogs attacking a small toy Manchester terrier/beagle being walked by its owner, Linda L. Irwin, 2801 Madison Ave.

The pit bulls bit the smaller dog and scratched Irwin's legs, ripping her hose, as she attempted to separate the animals, she said.

Unable to get an answer at the owner's residence, an officer checked the alley near the house and reported being confronted by the dogs, which growled and aggressively approached him. The officer then drew his service weapon and backed away from the animals.

The pit bulls continued to roam up and down the 2700s of Madison Avenue, growling at other dogs in the area, but when officers got near the animals the dogs fled.

The animals appeared to be violent at times and then acted more docile, reports noted.

Irwin assisted the officers by enticing the dogs onto a rear porch, where they were tied. Her dog was not injured.

Irwin is an active member and longtime supporter of the Association for Protection of Animals, the local volunteer humane group. She also is a member of the Fire and Police Commission.

Police said the dogs may have forced their way out of a pen in the owner's yard. A gate-door appeared to be secure on the pen, but part of the fence was pulled up at a point where the dogs could have pushed their way outside, reports said.

The dogs' owner arrived home at 5:30 p.m. March 25 and was charged. Smith posted $52 cash bail and was released.

Insurance plan delayed

SPRINGFIELD — The state on March 28 delayed for up to four and one-half months the implementation date of Senate Bill 688, the Comprehensive Health Insurance Plan (CHIP).

Gov. James R. Thompson said he wants to discourage Illinoisans from canceling their current insurance plans before CHIP is fully funded.

"It would be unconscionable to sign this legislation without changing the date," Thompson said. "The only thing we would achieve would be to heap more tragedy and worry on men and women already struggling with the burdens of catastrophic illness."

"Without appropriations for next year, we would just register people for an insurance pool that could not possibly support the claims to be paid out."

"Not only would people be let down by CHIP, they would have canceled other insurance policies or allowed them to lapse under the false hope of getting relief from the state's plan. We will, unforfeitable, be on suffering people."

Madison only big county still without health department

SPRINGFIELD — More than 90 percent of the 11.2 million people in Illinois live in counties with public health departments. Of the 850,000 who still do not, 250,000 are residents of Madison County.

Another proposal to create a health department is before the Madison County Board, which for more than 60 years has rejected the idea. Madison County is now the only large county in the state without its own health department.

The proposal is before the Board's Health Institutions Committee. Its chairman, Robert Stille of Edwardsville, is not convinced a county health department would provide services that aren't already being offered by other agencies in the county.

"But Illinois Department of Public Health (IDPH) officials contend many Madison County residents are still missing basic services to regard their health that most other residents of the state take for granted."

(George Rudis, chief of IDPH's division of local health administration, says many public health problems in the county also may be going undetected because no one is checking.)

"There are about 48 reportable diseases requiring investigation and follow-up and we don't have that in Madison County. It's important that families receive proper information so they can take some precautions to prevent diseases spreading through the family," said John Pitzer, manager of IDPH's regional office in Glen Carbon.

A county health department "provides a base to coordinate a number of preventive health services under one roof," Rudis argues.

"However, many of the services a county health department would provide already are being offered by private agencies that receive substantial state and federal funds."

"One of the chief arguments for a county health department is a program to immunize children. But the 'well child' program operated by the Family Services and Visiting Nurses Association (FSVNA) based in Alton, funded from both state grants and United Way support, vaccinated about 2,500 children last year in northern and eastern parts of the county. St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City has a program offering the same service to the southern part of the county."

FSVNA also operates two sexually transmitted disease clinics and traces the spread of venereal disease throughout the county, another proposed service of the county health department.

Coordinated Youth Services based in Granite City provides a wide range of public health services.

Other agencies provide extensive education and screening programs related to various specific diseases.

Existing agencies received nearly $800,000 last year in IDPH grants, in addition to money from state agencies and private donations.

Although the services are provided, they are too fragmented, Rudis said. State officials would prefer to deal with a single county health department, as it does in most of the state.

There also is no comprehensive plan for dealing with public health emergencies and no centralized agency to make sure people know what services are available and where to get them, a report done by the county Community Development Agency says.

IDPH officials also frequently point to a lack of regular restaurant inspections as an important reason for a county health department.

Pitzer said his office, which covers seven counties, could only check a restaurant if there had been a complaint from someone who became ill. Typically, that means only 30 to 50 restaurants in Madison County are checked each year. All of them should be checked at least twice a year, he said.

Not having a health department also is costing Madison County money, Pitzer said.

If Madison County had a health department this year, it would have qualified for a $383,000 grant from the state, Pitzer said.

Citizen advisory committee, formed last year to study the need for a Madison County health department, said the department should be created as long as it does not duplicate or take over services already being provided by local agencies.

County committee told recycling cost, benefits

EDWARDSVILLE — Recycling could reduce the amount of trash placed in Madison County landfills by 15 percent, an expert told members of the county's environmental control committee March 29.

Allen Purves, director of corporate development for Laidlaw Waste Systems Inc., said the program has worked in Ontario, Canada, where it was developed. Laidlaw operates the GSX Landfill near Edwardsville.

"Our recycling program was developed in the area of Kitchener, Ontario, in 1981," Purves said, "and it's been very successful."

The presentation by Purves and other Laidlaw representatives was the first of a planned series of public meetings by the county to get input on landfill alternatives.

Purves said the recycling program is not done magically.

"It costs money," he said. "In the area where we developed the program it costs the home owner about $1.50 per month in addition to the regular collection cost."

To hold health fair

MARYVILLE — Anderson Hospital's April community outreach programs will feature its fifth annual Health Fair at the Maryville Assembly of God Church on April 19, from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The fair will feature booths providing health screenings, blood tests and information on a variety of fitness and health topics. Also in April, Alcoholics Anonymous will begin holding closed weekly meetings at Anderson on Sundays, from 9 to 11 a.m. in the hospital's cafeteria.

No emission test, license lifted

SPRINGFIELD — Area residents who have had their vehicles tested for emissions should be getting notices in the mail from the Illinois Secretary of State's office telling them their licenses are going to be suspended.

Another 23,000 license suspension notices to motorists who reportedly failed to bring their vehicles in for testing were mailed by the Illinois Secretary of State's office.

Those are in addition to 24,000 mailed two days earlier and represent the largest number of suspension notices to go out since the start of the vehicle emissions program in 1986.

An estimated 6 percent of the notices went to Madison and St. Clair counties and the rest to the Chicago metro area.

Those receiving the license suspension notice, which takes effect in 30 days, have received three notices from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency and two warnings from the secretary of state.

Through the end of February, at which point 115,000 notices had been sent out since the program began, 54,000 vehicle owners still had not taken the tests, Schmidt said.

Trinity Tabernacle information available

Information on services at Trinity Tabernacle, 2001 South St., East Madison, is now available by telephone.

The interior of the church was damaged by a fire March 22 and the pastor, the Rev. Doyle Ankrom, and members of the congregation have made three telephone numbers available for church members to call for Members of the congregation may call 452-1561, 931-4004 or 931-3495 to obtain the latest information.

Madison firefighters responded to the fire at the church, which had recently been extensively remodeled. The cause of the fire is still under investigation.

Railroads: Can't afford to buy new freight cars

ORLANDO, FLA. — "We need to develop more teamwork between carrier and shipper, more cooperation and less confrontation," Arnold B. McKinnon, chairman and chief executive officer of Norfolk Southern Corp., told members of the National Grain and Feed Association at their annual convention March 15.

Addressing the issue of railroad car supply, McKinnon noted that, beginning April 1, Norfolk Southern will automatically accept all applications to load grain and grain products on privately-owned covered hoppers originating on Norfolk Southern. We think that will help the equipment supply and improve your ability to plan for your future car requirements," he said.

However, the nation's covered hopper fleet is aging and will need replacing in coming years, he said.

"The problem is that at existing rate levels, we can't justify buying new equipment for ourselves, and we can't justify high enough mileage allowances that would encourage you to buy new cars, either."

The American Steel Foundries plant in Granite City is among those not operating due to a lack of orders for new freight cars.

He urged railroads and shippers to cooperate in using existing equipment more efficiently. "Neither of us can afford to have these expensive assets used for storage and not move."

Of forced competitive access, McKinnon said, "From the shipper's point of view, it looks like a good idea on the surface. Unfortunately, the surface is about as deep as proponents of this idea seem willing to consider."

McKinnon conceded that lower freight rates may result from forced competitive access but not for long.

"The railroads, still facing the same fixed costs, would have to adjust somehow... The prospect of justifying new covered hoppers would become even more remote."

He added that grain shipping rates have already declined 28 percent, a 44 percent compound inflation — since the Staggers Act of 1980, and any further rate reductions are unlikely. "The way to attack rail rates is not to force the railroads to cannibalize themselves and each other," he said. "The way to do it is to attack our own costs."

He urged shippers to support the rail industry's efforts to reduce labor costs, citing the secondary boycott, the Federal Employers Liability Act and the trouble Railroad Retirement System as Congressionally-mandated cost factors ripe for reform.

McKinnon cautioned that if railroads cannot earn an adequate return, capital will be put to more productive use.

Norfolk Southern wants to stay in the railroad business, he said, "but when railroading ceases to make economic sense, we'll have no choice but to shift our focus to more promising ventures. Help us see that it never comes to that."

Village Board looks at jail possibility

any jail facilities, Hackney said.

"We've talked about expanding this building (Village Hall) and also building a separate holding area and we have to start some place," Trustee Don Rea said.

Rea questioned how badly holding cells are needed. "We do know that we're going to have to have holding cells sooner or later, but I don't think this is the way to go," said Trustee Bob Abel, chairman of the Police Committee.

"Once you build on this building, you're not going to sell it. It's a jail. It doesn't matter to me, but it's a thought we should consider," Mayor, Glen Wilson said.

"Before we can search for funds or grants to help us (build a jail), we have to have a plan," Trustee Loren Madison said.

It was agreed the jail facility would not be attached to the Village Hall and the discussion ended with trustees voting unanimously to spend $420 to get a professional sketch.

The Pontoon Beach Police Department has no secure area to hold prisoners. The radio room dispatch area is located near the entrance to the Village Hall and is accessible to the public.

"It does make it difficult," Police Chief Chief Ballew said. "Prisoners needing to be held overnight are kept at jails in neighboring communities. Granite City, Madison and Venice all help us out," he said.

If an officer brings in an offender and an emergency call comes in, such as a serious traffic accident requiring more than one officer, there is no place to secure the prisoner while the officer leaves the building, Ballew said.

The board initiated plans last August to sell the Village Hall and purchase larger quarters for a central office building and the Democratic nomination in 1986 against Price, who is retiring at the end of his present term. Now 83, Price was first elected to the U.S. House in 1944.

Fields said he believes the complaint was part of a "racist attack on me in the primary" and that the question of any impropriety or inaccuracy in his disclosure statement is unfounded.

"I find the whole thing pretty objectionable," Fields said, adding that once the $19,000 was transferred, its use was beyond his control.

Fields, Mansfield and Steve Maragides of Madison lost the Democratic nomination to St. Clair County Board Chairman Jerry Costello. Costello will oppose Republican Robert Gaffner Nov. 8.

Bids for the Village Hall, 308 Illinois St., were sought from prospective buyers but no bids were received by the Jan. 12 deadline.

The building also was offered for sale on the open market but a buyer has not been found to date.

Dippel's hit salvages split

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — Five and a half hours might seem like a long time to spend just to split a double-header.

But although it was far from pretty, Warrior baseball coach Bob Stegemeier was in a generally good mood when it was over. Granite City dropped a 7-6 decision in eight innings to Francis Howell North in the first game at Varsity Field on Thursday. But Craig Dippel's bases-loaded single in the seventh inning of the nightcap scored Joe Wallace for an 11-10 win in the nightcap.

Wallace had tripled to start the inning and the sophomore was also the winning pitcher in relief.

"What do you think about having scored 11 runs in three different games this year and being 2-1 in those games?" asked Stegemeier with a wry grin. "I guess our pitching's not too bad."

The Warriors have allowed 31 runs in the three games John Moad hasn't pitched. But while the other pitchers haven't been as sharp as Moad, the Warrior defense hasn't been as sharp behind those other pitchers as it has been in Moad's two wins.

Actually, the Warriors (3-2) came about as close to winning the double-header as they did losing it. So a split was probably appropriate.

First game

The opener was a seesaw affair featuring plenty of heroes, goats and villains.

The Warriors scored in the first when Jeff Kohler singled, went to second on a wild pitch and on to third when catcher Dave Lawson couldn't find the ball. Lawson eventually picked up an infield grounder by mistake, nearly creating mass confusion. But Kohler was safe at third to prevent chaos.

"What is this, Wrigley Field?" Stegemeier said referring to a two-balls-in-play-at-once incident involving Stan Musial in Chicago 30 years ago.

Kohler scored when he got a good jump on Kory Burton's groundout to third.

"We ran the bases well tonight," Stegemeier said.

The Knights scored two in the third when Kohler muffed Kevin Lackler's line drive for a four-base error. Rod Slingerland walked and scored on Dave Turner's double against Warrior starter Tim Black.

I was impressed with Black," Stegemeier said of the junior right-hander who pitched seven innings. "They had a good hitting club, but he hung in and competed well."

The Warriors leaped ahead 3-2 in their third on a Matt Rogers double, a Chris Nolan bunt single, an error and Burton's sacrifice fly. Burton has seven RBIs already.

Francis Howell tied the game thanks to a questionable umpire's call in the fourth. With runners at first and third and one out, Lackler hit a grounder to Nolan at second. Nolan stepped on the bag and threw to first, but the runner was safe although he appeared out by half a step. Kent Wise scored the tying run in the meantime.

Granite City jumped back on top in their fourth when Wallace singled and advanced on two errors. But the Knights went back up 5-4 in the fifth on Turner's two-run homer just over the left-field fence.

Kohler tied the game with two outs in the seventh with an RBI hit. Kurt Hodges started the rally with a hit and Nolan was hit by a pitch — after Lawson couldn't catch his foul pop — to keep the rally going with two outs. Kohler lined one to left-center to score the tying run, but Burton grounded out with the winning run at third.

Terry Stanley relieved Black in the eighth, but Turner got his third hit, stole second and went to third on Brian Tripp's bunt. The Warriors then had Turner nailed when the Knights messed up a squeeze. But Wallace threw the ball into left field.

"We had the guy frozen, but we didn't execute that play very well," Stegemeier said. "Joe should have run him back a little before throwing."

With Chad Lignoul pitching, John Hauk singled and eventually scored on Lignoul's balk with two outs with what proved to be the winning run.

The Warriors got one run back in their eighth when Wallace walked around on three wild pitches by reliever Raymond Schneider. But Hodges fanned with Chris Bartling at third to enter the game. Wise pitched 7 1/2 innings to get the win and Schneider got the save.

Stanley took the loss in relief. "Lignoul moved his hands a little in the stretch position," Stegemeier said of the balk. "He didn't play very well at all in that game."

Francis Howell played mostly like a player in the first game, but Stegemeier said he would count the game on the Warriors' varsity record.

Second game

"I have to admit I'm surprised by the way we have swung the bats and scored runs," Stegemeier said. "I knew we had a few good hitters, but a lot of our runners are really coming through."

That was a capsule summary of the nightcap as the Warriors came back from 7-5 and 10-8 deficits to pull out the win.

Mark Bergamo started and was hit hard, allowing 12 hits and seven runs in five innings. But he was let down at times by some shaky outfield defense.

Chris Hampsey continued his hot early hitting with an RBI hit in the first and Bartling tripled and scored on an error in the second. Kohler's infield hit scored a run in the fourth, but a barrage of doubles and triples by the Knights scored four runs in the third.

Then two hits, an infield out and an error by Moad at first base gave Francis Howell a 7-3 edge in the fifth. But Chris Ryan, Dippel and Moad singled off Mike Hemgath in the fifth and Hampsey singled to left to score two runs.

Wallace hit into a forceout with the bases loaded, but Bartling took out second baseman Craig Kerner, forcing a bad throw as Hampsey and Burton crossed the plate to give the Warriors an 8-7 lead.

"That was more good baserunning" by Burton and aggressive play from Bartling," Stegemeier said.

Granite City then committed three errors behind Jamie Needham in the sixth. Eddie Kendrick singled home one run, Hemgath doubled home another and two errors on the same play by Lignoul allowed a third run and a 10-8 Knights' lead.

But Bartling singled home Moad in the Warrior sixth and Hampsey scored the tying run on a wild pitch. Wallace came on in the seventh and got two strikeouts and also picked off Sam Schaeffer, who had singled.

"It was good to see Joe pitch a good inning," Stegemeier said. "He could provide a little pitching depth. He came in and threw some smoke."

Wallace hit some smoke to start the bottom of the seventh when he tripled to right-center. Two intentional walks filled the bases, but Dippel ruined the strategy on the first pitch when he singled to right.

"We had so many big hits tonight," Stegemeier said. "Jeff Kohler has just been fantastic for us. I didn't think he would be a hitter. We've hit some good pitching and have shown the ability to come back. It's too early to compare this team to last year's, but it's awesome to me that we have scored so many runs."

And with Mike Kraus coming back this week to help solidify the pitching a little, things could get more interesting.

base error. Rod Slingerland walked and scored on Dave Turner's double against Warrior starter Tim Black.

I was impressed with Black," Stegemeier said of the junior right-hander who pitched seven innings. "They had a good hitting club, but he hung in and competed well."

The Warriors leaped ahead 3-2 in their third on a Matt Rogers double, a Chris Nolan bunt single, an error and Burton's sacrifice fly. Burton has seven RBIs already.

Francis Howell tied the game thanks to a questionable umpire's call in the fourth. With runners at first and third and one out, Lackler hit a grounder to Nolan at second. Nolan stepped on the bag and threw to first, but the runner was safe although he appeared out by half a step. Kent Wise scored the tying run in the meantime.

Granite City jumped back on top in their fourth when Wallace singled and advanced on two errors. But the Knights went back up 5-4 in the fifth on Turner's two-run homer just over the left-field fence.

Kohler tied the game with two outs in the seventh with an RBI hit. Kurt Hodges started the rally with a hit and Nolan was hit by a pitch — after Lawson couldn't catch his foul pop — to keep the rally going with two outs. Kohler lined one to left-center to score the tying run, but Burton grounded out with the winning run at third.

Terry Stanley relieved Black in the eighth, but Turner got his third hit, stole second and went to third on Brian Tripp's bunt. The Warriors then had Turner nailed when the Knights messed up a squeeze. But Wallace threw the ball into left field.

"We had the guy frozen, but we didn't execute that play very well," Stegemeier said. "Joe should have run him back a little before throwing."

With Chad Lignoul pitching, John Hauk singled and eventually scored on Lignoul's balk with two outs with what proved to be the winning run.

The Warriors got one run back in their eighth when Wallace walked around on three wild pitches by reliever Raymond Schneider. But Hodges fanned with Chris Bartling at third to enter the game. Wise pitched 7 1/2 innings to get the win and Schneider got the save.

Stanley took the loss in relief. "Lignoul moved his hands a little in the stretch position," Stegemeier said of the balk. "He didn't play very well at all in that game."

Francis Howell played mostly like a player in the first game, but Stegemeier said he would count the game on the Warriors' varsity record.

"I have to admit I'm surprised by the way we have swung the bats and scored runs," Stegemeier said. "I knew we had a few good hitters, but a lot of our runners are really coming through."

That was a capsule summary of the nightcap as the Warriors came back from 7-5 and 10-8 deficits to pull out the win.

Mark Bergamo started and was hit hard, allowing 12 hits and seven runs in five innings. But he was let down at times by some shaky outfield defense.

Chris Hampsey continued his hot early hitting with an RBI hit in the first and Bartling tripled and scored on an error in the second. Kohler's infield hit scored a run in the fourth, but a barrage of doubles and triples by the Knights scored four runs in the third.

Then two hits, an infield out and an error by Moad at first base gave Francis Howell a 7-3 edge in the fifth. But Chris Ryan, Dippel and Moad singled off Mike Hemgath in the fifth and Hampsey singled to left to score two runs.

Wallace hit into a forceout with the bases loaded, but Bartling took out second baseman Craig Kerner, forcing a bad throw as Hampsey and Burton crossed the plate to give the Warriors an 8-7 lead.

"That was more good baserunning" by Burton and aggressive play from Bartling," Stegemeier said.

Granite City then committed

Holiday Greetings

HAPPY EASTER! That's the message from 6-year-old artist Terra Broyles, a first-grader at Prather Elementary School. Terra drew and colored this cheerful picture while she was home on school vacation last week. "The Easter Bunny's going to bring me a lot of stuff," Terra told the Press-Record/Journal. Why? "Because he's the Easter Bunny," of course.

Special Arts Festival held at SIUE

Two thousand students, teachers, parents and volunteers recently attended the Very Special Arts Festival at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Entertainment included music, dance, jazz, a magician, bands, creative skits, an electronic keyboardist, a puppet show, choirs, storytellers, and a karate demonstration.

There were booths for special activities for the children, including paper bag decorating, making paper chains, string painting, "goofy" glasses, puppet making, cookie decorating, video, computer games, make-up, photographs, clothespin caterpillars, a hug booth, and sandpaper drawings.

Two awarded scholarships

Susan Murphy, daughter of Bill and Mary Murphy of Granite City, and a senior at Granite City High School, and Thomas Johnson, son of Carlene Johnson of Granite City, and a senior at GCMS, have been awarded $8,000 J.B. McMichael scholarships from Monmouth College in Monmouth, Ill.

Both won a Monmouth McMichael Scholarship on the basis of high-school record, a written essay, and an on-campus interview.

The program consists of six monthly contests and one photo-journalism competition, with championship finals in both divisions.

Despite illness, Jackson's stay 'thriller' for hotel staff

By Stephanie Grant Stanley
Staff affiliate

To his fans, Michael Jackson may be very "bad," but to staffers at the Breckenridge Frontenac Hotel he's been very good.

That's the word from Pat Bergauer, the hotel's general manager.

"He's a very quiet, well-mannered and gentle man," Bergauer says. "He goes to work at night and sleeps during the day. The only changes we've had to make is to try to make certain the floor he's staying on is quiet so he can get some rest."

The pop singer, who stopped in St. Louis one weekend last month to promote his latest album, "Bad," stayed at the Breckenridge.

Jackson was scheduled to perform at The Arena, but the show was eventually cancelled. After an illness forced him to reschedule one night, he wound up cancelling the show outright because of laryngitis.

But the schedule disruptions posed no real problem for Bergauer's staff, she says.

"Getting a physician for him is unusual, but we got him one and he was treated," she says. "Then we just made sure everything was quiet for him."

He may not travel with his own personal physician, but Jackson does have an impressive entourage, Bergauer says.

"He has his own security, business agents and secretary who stayed here," she says. "And he brings his own chef and stays on his diet."

That meal plan includes rice, fresh vegetables and fruits, Bergauer says. The star favors healthy, high-protein foods, but stays away from meats, she says.

Another of Jackson's traveling companions is his pet monkey, Bubbles.

"He's (Bubbles) very sweet," she says. "His trainer takes him up to see him (Jackson) every day. Bubbles and the trainer stayed here too, but elsewhere in the hotel."

The hotel kept fans from Jackson by posting a hotel security officer on his floor and requiring all visitors to the floor to show a hotel key. If they didn't belong on that floor, they were turned away, Bergauer says.

Something... they don't learn in school!

We are proud to have the opportunity to provide young boys and girls with the responsibility of "delivering our newspaper. Responsibility and financial management are two basics that are on the job training when a boy or girl accepts a newspaper delivery route. The responsibility is great because the entire effort of very talented people depends on their delivery of the newspaper on time no matter what weather conditions or other circumstances arise. Being an independent merchant he or she is responsible financially for the payment and collection of money for newspapers delivered. We recognize the responsibilities both financial and job performance and we would like to congratulate the girls and boys who value this experience and do an excellent job of satisfying our customers.
